WHEREAS, Endodontists have incredible precision and hand-eye coordination, making them highly skilled in performing complex treatments; they use the most current and advanced technology to treat dental patients; no one is better at saving a patient's natural teeth; and

WHEREAS, Endodontists perform many other endodontic treatments and surgeries and address traumatic dental injuries; their goal is to save a patient's natural teeth whenever possible; however, an endodontist will look at all treatment options to determine the best course of action for each individual case; and

WHEREAS, Endodontists limit their practice solely to endodontic treatments and perform an average of 25 root canal treatments a week; specialized treatment gives patients the best outcome and allows them to heal faster; for this reason, dentists and endodontists often work as partners in care so that the best member of the dental team is handling each appropriate issue with a patient's teeth; and

WHEREAS, Teeth are a gateway to nutrition, are used to express emotion, and are a sign of overall good health; poor oral hygiene can lead to other health problems; regular dental visits, flossing, brushing thoroughly at least twice a day, and refraining from foods and habits that can cause cavities are important steps for maintaining the overall health of one's gums, teeth, and mouth and can help maintain teeth for a lifetime; therefore, be it
